

COUNTY CHIEFS NAMED BY G.O.P., AND DEMOCRATS

Samuel S. Weaver, Columbiana, Is Republican Chairman

WILL APPOINT EXECUTIVE UNIT

Att'y S. W. Crawford, of E. Liverpool, Heads Democrats

Republicans and Democrats of Columbiana county elected new county chairmen Monday night when central committees of the two parties met in the two court rooms of the court house in Lisbon.

Samuel S. Weaver of Columbiana was elected chairman of the Republican committee and former Judge Samuel W. Crawford of East Liverpool was chosen by the Democrats. Weaver succeeds Attorney Ben L. Bennett of East Liverpool and Crawford succeeds C. V. Beatty of East Liverpool.

As committees from the 110 precincts in the county met, the Republicans nominated Weaver, Bennett and John T. Burns of Salem. Bennett declined the nomination after serving two terms and Weaver nosed Burns out in the balloting.

Attorney Walter B. Hill of East Liverpool was elected vice chairman; G. Cecil Rauch of Lisbon secretary, and Albert T. Smith of Salineville treasurer.

Chairman Weaver was instructed to appoint an executive committee of 25 from members of the central committee.

Robert M. Patterson of Lisbon was elected vice chairman of the Democratic committee and James S. Gregg of Salem was elected secretary-treasurer. Beatty declined the nomination for another term as chairman.

The Democratic chairman was authorized to appoint an executive committee.

National Guard May Act In Strike At Portsmouth Plant

(By Associated Press) PORTSMOUTH, May 26.—Possibility of national guard intervention hung over Portsmouth today as the Wheeling Steel Corp. paid off employees at its downtown offices and federal authorities admitted mediation in the four-day-old strike affecting 5,500 workers appeared remote.

Two national guard officers were sent here by Gov. Martin L. Davey to determine if the strikers' request for protection by troops should be heeded.

Sporadic fights, with more than a score of men treated for minor injuries, marked the walkout.

"The situation is at a deadlock," declared R. M. Pilkington, federal mediator sent here by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

After separate meetings with plant leaders and company officials, he said, "The situation is at a deadlock."

Richard Evans, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, which struck on the contention that its bargaining rights under the national labor relations act were not respected, declared the union "would not yield an inch."

C. C. Caudill, general manager of the Wheeling plant here, reiterated that the company would sign no contract with the union.

Accused In Slaying

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 26.—Elli Smith, 38, was returned to Warren, O. today to face charges of slaying Henry Howard, who was shot fatally Sunday in an argument over a bottle of liquor.

CANADIAN PLANE CRASHES; 6 DEAD

Disaster In Northern Quebec Is Secret For Two Days

(By Associated Press) AMOS, Quebec, May 26.—A Canadian passenger plane crash in which six men died drew official investigators today to the fastnesses of Northern Quebec which kept the disaster a secret for two days.

The circumstances of the crash, which became known only late last night after the plane plunged to earth last Sunday, were still enveloped in mystery.

A General Airways pilot, Gath Edwards, searching for the missing ship, found the over-turned wreckage about half a mile from Chibougamau lake, about 100 miles northeast of this mining town and 250 miles northwest of Quebec.

The passengers were understood to have been returning to Rouyn, Quebec, a mining center 50 miles from here, after an inspection tour of northern mining properties. All occupants of the plane were killed.

The dead
W. H. Clarke, General Airways pilot, veteran flier and aviation pioneer in the northern mining country of Quebec province.

George Milhan, mechanic.
Four passengers, three of them unidentified and the fourth reported from Rouyn to be Leo Springer, prominent mining man and head of Ceres Explorations, Limited.

The other three passengers were understood to be prospectors taken aboard the plane at Father Lake and Presqu'ile to join Springer's inspection party.

Aviators were inclined to attribute the crash to Sunday's adverse flying conditions.

The pilot who located the wreckage brought back the first definite word of the disaster last night. He said the broken plane was lying on its back, but declined to give further information until the airways officials arrived.

The deaths in the disaster were the first in the years of flying to and from the gold mining country.

Major Killed When Plane Falls During Army Test Flight

(By Associated Press) DAYTON, May 26.—Major Hez McClellan, chief of the army's flight test section at Wright field, died in the crash of his plane, a board of inquiry launched today its investigation of circumstances surrounding the accident.

Maj. McClellan, a veteran pilot, was flying a pursuit ship submitted for tests and possible purchase by the air corps. He apparently made a futile effort to "bail out" with his parachute, but the silk fouled on the tail-section. Witnesses reported the plane went into a spin as it plummeted to earth.

Harvey Anderson, a farm hand, said McClellan obviously had been having trouble with the plane for several minutes before the crash.

McClellan succeeded Maj. Ployer P. Hill, who died in the crash and burning last October of the "Flying Fortress".

Held In Slaying

CANTON, May 26.—Roy Owen, 29, and Harry Nolan, 23, were charged with first degree murder last night in connection with the slaying of Tony Pasko, 28, whose body was found May 18 on a road near the edge of the city. Pasko had been clubbed and shot.

Assistant Prosecutor A. C. L. Barthelme said the men confessed to the slaying and said it occurred after Pasko had threatened them with a revolver.

ISSUE WARRANTS IN CAMPAIGN ON "BLACK LEGION"

Authorities In Jackson, Mich., Accuse Three Prison Guards

GROUP NAMED IN FLOGGING CASE

13 Members of Order In Detroit Are Charged With Slaying

(By Associated Press) DETROIT, May 26.—The "war of extermination" on the Black Legion brought 25 warrants charging kidnapping and felonious assault in Jackson today against members of the Secret Hooded order accused of stripping and flogging a relief worker who refused to join.

Acting with speed that matched that of authorities of Detroit in charging 13 members with the slaying of Charles A. Poole, prosecutor Owen Dudley, of Jackson, swore out warrants today against three guards at the southern Michigan prison, a resident of Norville, and 21 "John Does" accused of participation in the beating last Nov. 5 of Harley Smith, father of five children.

Accuse Prison Guards
The men accused are Ray Ernest, said by Dudley to be a "brigadier general" in the terrorist's band, his brothers Glenn and Clarence, and Allen Bascom. The Ernest brothers are guards at the prison.

The men, held at the state police post in Jackson for investigation in the death of Paul Every, another prison guard, will be arraigned today, Dudley said.

Acting on suspicion that fire which destroyed a barn and outbuildings on the estate of George Noon near Jackson might have been the result of Black Legion arson, state police sped to the scene a short time after they had disrupted an attempt by six carloads of vigilantes to conduct a meeting in the woods near there.

In Oakland county, (Pontiac) officers re-opened the unsolved slaying of Howard Curtis, whose body was found near Milford late in 1934.

Clothing Set Afire
The body, a bullet wound in the back of the head, which had been severed from the body, was found in a clump of bushes by a hunter. The clothing had been set afire.

A resident of the neighborhood, said she had heard screams from the direction of the field several days earlier, and had seen three men in a touring car drive away.

Wayne county authorities today raided five homes in the down river district here and found what they claimed was evidence that two recent bombings in Ecorse were inspired by the black robed band.

In the homes, which included those of two former Ecorse councilmen, the raiders seized fire arms and literature of the organization.

Bee Keepers, Fruit Growers Will Meet

LISBON, May 26.—Bee keepers and fruit growers of Columbiana county will meet in the court room here Wednesday, at 8:15 p. m., to discuss the bee situation and arrange for inspection work. In many colonies many of the bees were killed by the severe winter and beekeepers regarded the situation as being serious.

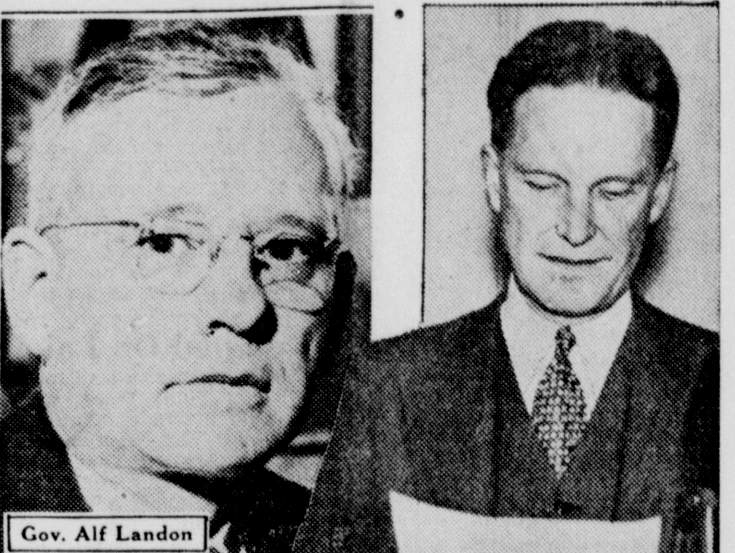

Fruit growers are concerned about the lack of bees for pollination purposes. Arrangements have been made for state inspection for foul brood, which is a disease that destroys many bees.

Arrangements for doing the inspection work will be discussed at the meeting. A. A. Riese, state apiarist, and W. E. Dunham, bee specialist of Ohio State university, will speak at the meeting. George P. Rehman, Wellsville, is president of the bee keepers association.

Landon's Manager Looming As Future Power In G.O.P.

Gov. Alf Landon

John Hamilton

By CHARLES GREENHAM
International Illustrated News Writer

TOPEKA, Kas.—As the national political spotlight turns with increasing intensity on the figure of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the figure of his energetic campaign manager, John D. M. Hamilton, takes on greater prominence.

Whether or not Hamilton becomes the "Republican Farley," it is a certainty that he will be an important figure at the approaching national Republican convention which opens in Cleveland on June 9.

In fact, there are numerous predictions among G. O. P. leaders that Hamilton will be appointed as national committee chairman, replacing veteran Henry P. Fletcher, if Landon succeeds in winning the presidential nomination. If such a development should come about, it will probably be accompanied by political complications behind the scenes since it is doubtful if the "Old Guard," which has held the upper hand for years, will give in gracefully to appointment of Hamilton.

Hamilton almost succeeded in unseating Fletcher, choice of the Hills-Roraback faction, at the last committee election when he polled 44 votes. He was given a measure of recognition, however, by being appointed special counsel and delegated to build up the Young Republican organization which he brought to a place of power and national prominence in Kansas.

Landon Campaign Began Slowly
Hamilton has, however, proved himself a politician of no mean ability by the astute manner in which he has handled the campaign of Governor Landon. Working with the handicap of limited campaign funds, he nevertheless has succeeded in contributing importantly to the gathering momentum of the Landon movement.

Landon's campaign began in a very modest way when a small group of political associates of the "Kansas Coolidge" set up headquarters in a Topeka hotel and began a quiet but effective campaign which took hold immediately because of the contrast which conservative steady-going Landon provided in comparison with the somewhat dramatic course of the New Deal.

The plan of strategy worked out by Landon campaigners was to avoid outright political clashes with other presidential possibilities, to steer clear of becoming involved in state political battles, and allow itself up without resorting to high pressure methods.

In line with this program, Governor Landon has avoided making specific suggestions to any of the current leading problems, but has directed his appeal along the lines of conservatism, sound finance and government administration on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Graduates Of Salem High Plan Reunions Here June 5

Salem High school graduates will renew acquaintances and chat over early school days at the annual Salem High School Alumni association banquet Friday night, June 5, in the Masonic temple.

Probably the most attractive event to these former students will be the group reunions being arranged by committees preparing for the banquet. President A. E. Beardmore has urged all of the five-year classes to hold reunions.

Invitations have gone out to scattered members of the graduates' Quaker class of 1886 which will observe its 50th anniversary reunion. Willis R. Hole is in charge of arrangements for this group. Several, now residing in distant points, already have signified that they would be on hand "reunion night."

Alumni association committees are arranging separate tables for the reunited classes, Beardmore said today.

While the Class of '86 will be holding its 50th reunion, the Class of 1891 will hold its 45th reunion;

13 ARE SEATED AS JURORS FOR MURDER TRIAL

Wellsville Woman Takes 13th Chair In Dudley Adams Case

HEARING OPENS THIS AFTERNOON

Jury to Visit Scene of Crime Following Opening Statements

LISBON, May 26.—Selection of jurors, including eight women and five men, was completed at 1:30 p. m. today in the case of Dudley Adams, 22, of East Liverpool, charged with first degree murder in the Christmas day slaying of Clarence Dickey, East Liverpool truck operator.

Mrs. Frances Dornick of Wellsville was sworn as the 13th juror and an extra chair was placed for her beside the jury box.

Jury Sworn at Noon
The state exhausted five of its six peremptory challenges in picking the jurors. Judge W. P. Lones swore in the jury at noon.

During the selection of the jurors 54 were called from a venire of 75.

The state at 11:40 a. m. announced it was content with the jury, which is comprised of the following persons:

Mrs. Florence Rapp of Columbiana; Mrs. Effie Potts, Salineville; Mrs. Evalyn Garner of East Liverpool; Charles Davis, a farmer, of Clarkson; Mrs. E. J. Kesselmir of Salem; Bert Davis, farmer, of R. D. Lisbon; Mrs. Mona McElravy, East Liverpool; Mrs. Louise Hetzel Evans, East Liverpool; Harvey A. Copeland, retired, Salem; Harold Cartwright, timekeeper, East Liverpool; Mrs. Percy Tucker of Salem, and Harry Escick, a farmer of Moultrie.

Will Visit Crime Scene
The jury will be taken to the scene of the crime at East Liverpool, probably this afternoon, following opening statements.

Yesterday afternoon the jury box tentatively filled, but because of peremptory challenges by the defense, Frank Saltsman, Wellsville, and V. A. Schreiber, a lay preacher at Madison Presbyterian church, were unseated.

Mrs. Kesselmir took seat No. 5, while Mrs. Tucker took the place vacated by Schreiber.

Goodyear Plants Being Watched By 3 O. N. G. Officers

AKRON, May 26.—Three Ohio National Guard officers watched the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plants here today following the latest in a series of "sitdown" protests.

The "sitdown" started yesterday following the arrest of more than a score of union rubber workers on warrants charging violation of the Ohio anti-rioting statute in connection with a previous demonstration at the plant. Yesterday's "sitdown" lasted only a few hours.

Thirty of 31 warrants issued against union employees of the company on the rioting charge had been served today. The cases are scheduled for hearing tomorrow.

The three officers assigned to the plants by Adj. Gen. Emil F. Marx were Capt. Ben L. Kilper of Massillon, Capt. Paul K. Barker of Akron, and F. G. Ruffner, also of Akron.

The Goodyear union, in a statement signed by William Carney of the union defense committee, charged "legal terrorism" on the part of the company.

Missionary Listed For Church Address

R. P. Hanselmann, missionary from the island of New Guinea, will tell of his work and of the customs of the people with whom he lives in an address at the Emmanuel American Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Interesting stories of how cannibals have been taught the Christian religion and of various adventures experienced in his work as a missionary will be related by Hanselmann.

Various curios from the island of New Guinea will be placed on display at the church. Rev. John Bauman, pastor of the Emmanuel American Lutheran church, arranged for Hanselmann's address.

Guilford Grange Obligates Seven

Worthy Master Alfred Gamble of Guilford grange obligated seven young people in the first and second degrees at the meeting Saturday night.

HOLY LAND TORN BY ARMED FIGHT

Open Conflict Develops Between Arabs, British and Police

(By Associated Press) JERUSALEM, May 26.—The long-smoldering Holy Land Arab anti-Jewish disorders developed today into open, armed conflict between Arabs and British soldiers and police.

British forces, campaigning to restore order after 40 days of violence in which at least 50 persons have been killed, fought two engagements, dispersing a mob of 200 Arabs in one clash but withdrawing before an Arab advance in the other.

Warns Terrorists
The British high commissioner for Palestine, Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, in an address at the Levant fair, warned terrorists: "No strike, no violence can deter the government from fulfilling its obligations under the League of Nations mandate."

The high commissioner expressed belief the Arab general strike and demonstrations against Jewish immigrations to the Holy Land were only temporary.

The conflict appeared to be spreading up and down the land Jesus of Nazareth once trod, however, as fresh reports of disorders came to the British administration.

Police were forced to retire from their positions at the foot of Mount Tabor, east of Nazareth, when their ammunition ran out early today after a long gun battle.

Police Fall Back
The police fell back in a strategic retreat upon observing a party of some 250 Arabs, armed with rifles, bearing down upon them from the front and the flanks.

Another force of British soldiers and police fought an encounter with 200 Arabs at Meskha, near Nazareth.

The Arabs were repelled late last night, carrying off their wounded. The number of casualties was not determined.

One of the hottest spots was the town of Gaza where British families took refuge in the police station—once the headquarters of Napoleon—while rioters erected barricades and stoned the police, forcing them to fire.

All telephone and telegraph wires were cut, communications with Jerusalem being maintained by radio.

Await Sentences

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 26.—Seven officers and salesmen of the Atlantic Drug and Chemical Co., who pleaded guilty to charges of using the mails to defraud, awaited today their sentencing in federal court Thursday.

The government charged the company fraudulently claimed it had an option on a cold remedy and operated factories in Steubenville, O., and Wheeling, W. Va.

Those who pleaded guilty were Henry M. Bass, president; David S. Hammond, secretary; A. S. Guyer, chief salesman; and Alexander I. Thompson, James Ritchie, Roy E. Smith and Harrison M. Whippo, salesmen.

Consider Relief

COLUMBUS, May 26.—The senate reconvened today to take up the relief situation and the house prepared to start deliberations tomorrow afternoon. QUOTE AND UNQUOTE

The annual report of the Commonwealth & Southern Corp. is not one of those documents which people will stay up to read. In it, however, is a paragraph from the pen of its president, Wendell H. Wilkie, one of the more articulate power utility executives, which deserves attention.

Writes Mr. Wilkie:

"It is gradually being realized that the lower electric rates charged in the limited area in which the Tennessee valley authority is now operating, either directly or indirectly through municipal plants, are made possible only by additional taxes paid by people in all parts of the country. Whenever a citizen of Tupelo, Miss., turns on the electric switch everybody in the United States helps pay his electric bill. This extraordinary situation becomes the more difficult to understand when it is realized that our operating companies in that area could lower their rates at least 25 percent below the Tennessee valley authority rates if they were given the same gifts from the federal treasury as are given to the Tennessee valley authority."

Obviously, the Tupelo, Miss., citizen has every reason to be enthusiastic about such a plan. On the other hand, the user of electric current who must help to pay the bill without getting anything for nothing has an equally good reason to conclude he is being played for a sucker, unless he happens to be a public ownership enthusiast. It all leads to the conclusion that the real test of the new deal power program will come when the beneficiaries and the enthusiasts wake up some morning and discover that they aren't going to get anything for nothing after all.

MEMORIAL DAY

Sometime in the future there possibly may be a national Memorial day. Memories of the Civil war are becoming indistinct. In a few more years the few surviving participants in the struggle between the north and south all will be gone.

Already, the day has a new aspect. The boys in blue and the boys in gray are sharing their honors with the boys in khaki, thereby opening the possibility of a national Memorial day. This year all states, excepting Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina, will observe the occasion simultaneously.

In the United States the spirit of Memorial day is significantly free of militarism. It is a period in which respect for courage and sacrifice is displayed, but there is no disposition to glorify the causes of conflict.

Americans do not want to keep alive old hatreds. The ease with which they are able to forget them should be a powerful argument against permitting new prejudices to develop. The graves of the fallen which will be decorated this May 30 silently implore the living not to allow any avoidable increase in their number before next May 30 or any Memorial day thereafter.

THAT'S BASEBALL

There may be sound reasons for the lopsided big league baseball scores of the last few days. If so, the soundest is that baseball is that kind of a game. Experts are grinning philosophically and explaining, "That's baseball."

Sluggers can count in having their day against the best of pitchers. Conversely, the poorest of pitchers can count on frustrating the best of hitters, occasionally.

When the New York Yankees made history last Sunday by overwhelming the Philadelphia Athletics with 25 runs, they proved that the Athletics are a weak team. At the same time, they proved nothing, because the Athletics conceivably might catch the Yankee pitchers on an off day and score as many runs themselves.

Baseball became the national game and is more than holding its own in popularity because it is a sport in which anything can happen—and frequently does. It offers a minimum of certainty and a maximum of surprise.

Every season a certain amount of worrying is done about the condition of major league baseball. The free hitting at the expense of some of the best pitchers this season seems to be proof that nothing is sewed up in advance, except the ball.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, May 27

A very lively and pleasant day is presaged by the predominant lunar and mutual aspects of the ruling planets. All pertaining to writings, publication, publicity, advertising and promotional campaigns should be very successful.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a rather merry and pleasant year, with things of youth and its welfare and happiness to the fore. Good news in this connection may be alluring and exciting, possibly to a degree of frivolity and extravagance.

A child born on this day may be brilliant, adaptable, lively and fond of the limelight and its pleasures and pursuits.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, May 26.—Memories of a Gay '90 boulevardier: Richard Croker dropping into a lower avenue hat shop for a new flat-topped derby. . . . Charles H. Then began her career as Mrs. Fiske. . . . William H. Vanderbilt driving Maud S. up the avenue buggy-wise. . . . Frank A. Munsey leaning against his desk at 81 Warren st. with a solitary clerk and worrying about the future of "Argosy." . . .

Patrick Gilmore leading his band past the A. T. Stewart marble palace. . . . Frederic McKay, the town's toniest dresser. . . . Col. John A. Cockrell, distinguished looking editor of the New York World. . . . The Brakely Hall stories in the old Sun about the dudishness of Robert Hilliard and Berry Wall. . . . George Kessler, the Barnum of champagne salesmen, riding up to Rector's in a blue and red striped automobile. . . . Tod Sloan escorting Edna Wallace Hopper to Moquin's. . . . Opening nights of the Waldorf, Martin's and Cafe de l'Opera. . . . The old Fifth ave. hotel—fine room and three meals, $5 a day.

More memories: The wedding reception of Lillian Russell and Signor Perugini at her off Riverside Drive residence. . . . Diamond Jim Brady showing all the jewelry he was wearing to Jack DeSaules at a Friar's banquet. . . . It filled a derby. . . . The night Flo Ziegfeld dressed as a tramp, met Billie Burke at a 60 Club dance. . . . Marshall P. Wilder hanging on the entrance rail at all first nights. . . . Morgan to his table. . . . Sarah Bernhardt escorted through the Hoffman House bar with all its naughty paintings. . . . Kyrie Bellew's grand fencing against twelve varlets in the staircase scene in "A Gentleman from France."

Rumors persist that Alexander Woolcott is to quit the hurly-burly of New York for a cloistered life near the murmuring trees of the campus of his beloved Hamilton college from which he was graduated and of which he is now a trustee. For years he had been a symbol of dancing in Times Square and celebrated as the sage of "Wit's End," his four-room apartment at the foot of East Fifty-second st. His balconied windows, on which he gave his famous Sunday morning breakfasts, are almost lapped by the river. His English living room is paneled in pine and his bed is a windowed alcove niched among his books and overlooking the stream.

But now his apartment is being readied for sale and Woolcott wants to get away from it all. Back to the scenes of his collegiate days to write when he pleases, read the books he has neglected and to travel at intervals to far-away places. He wants to realize the unrealized dream of almost every "ink stained wretch" and go down the other side of the hill with the leisure to pick daisies, loil under great oaks and things. He has bought an old house near his college for the sanctuary. A house deep in shade and tradition where the wind harps threnodies through ancient cedars.

Woolcott has flourished financially the last few years through radio and enormous book royalties. The gossip goes he is paying for the college education of a number of poor boys anonymously. His besetting worry is avoirdupois. He was a moderately thin fellow until rather late in life he had the mumps. Then he began to balloon, and believes the cause is glandular. He had been the subject of much medical experimentation with this theory as a basis. Partly successful but not as much as he desired. His removal from the New York scene will uproot one of the most vital figures of the era—and like most vital figures one with staunch friendships and of course the inevitable sneers.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

PROSTATIC DISEASE

ACCORDING TO latest available statistics, approximately one-third of all men over 60 years of age suffer from enlargement of the prostate gland. Unfortunately this disorder is often neglected, leading to serious disorders and complications.

Many men delay consulting the doctor because they fear the knife. Let me assure you that operation is rarely necessary. Let me point out, too, that the operation is no longer as dangerous or as serious as it used to be.

Few other operations have been so perfectly as this. This agreeable change has been brought about within the past decade or so. But what is prostatic hypertrophy, the medical name for enlarged prostate, and how does it occur? To understand the matter it is necessary to know something about the gland, located at the neck of the urinary bladder.

Though the actual function of the prostate is not known, its enlargement is believed to be associated with a disturbance in certain glandular functions.

Enlargement Gradual

The gland increases in size as middle age is approached. This enlargement is gradual but may ultimately lead to certain discomforts. For example, there may be some obstruction to the normal outlet of urine from the bladder.

This trouble may occur before 60 years of age, but usually happens after this. Some men never suffer from this affliction, while others notice it at an early age. The actual cause of this enlargement is not known.

The danger of prostatic hypertrophy is not associated with the possibility of operation, but in the neglect of the ailment. To pay no attention to it may result in damage to the circulation, heart, and kidneys. When these vital organs are involved, serious symptoms may develop.

Diet and simple medication may be sufficient to prevent further enlargement. Special treatments, such as massage or "diathermy," are often beneficial. Of course, the treatment must be outlined by your doctor, who can only determine what will be most beneficial after a complete examination. Do not neglect this disorder.

Answers to Health Queries
Mrs. J. A. Q.—What can be done for ptosis of the stomach and intestines? There is much gas, pain and general discomfort. What would you suggest in the way of diet?
A—A properly-fitted support or belt is sometimes very helpful in such cases. Simple diet and regular habits are important. For full particulars send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and repeat your question.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelopes with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL in the Human Heart

Perhaps half the disappointments in the world are occasioned by people trying to get more than they pay for. Regardless of the laws of economics, the striving for a bargain is ceaseless. Yet, the dollar sign is the quality sign. You get what you pay for. La Salle, for instance, is a quality car—built to the highest Cadillac standards. It does not sell—and cannot sell—in the low-price field. Yet, day after day, people try to find La Salle quality in the price range below. Of course, they are disappointed. If you want La Salle style, beauty and quality, you must buy a La Salle. There is no substitute.

THERE'S MURDER IN THE AIR

by ROY CHANSLOR

CHAPTER XXX

The intolerable worry and suspense were done. Now he could act. The moment of his supreme gesture was almost at hand. It was fitting and proper to die for those one loved.

He brushed his hair carefully, examined his reflection in the mirror. He even managed a smile. Then he stepped into the bedroom. Johnson stood there woodenly. In a calm, even voice Gordon told him the suit, the hat, the stick he wanted. He donned the conservative dark clothes, took the gray Homburg hat, the Malacca stick, from Johnson. Then he smiled at the man whose composure almost vanished. His face worked, but at Gordon's sharp, "Steady!" Johnson stiffened.

Gordon shifted his hat and stick, held out his hand. Johnson stared at it, pitifully, hesitated. Gordon held his hand steady. Johnson seized it, wrung it. Still clasping his hand, Gordon said quietly: "Good-by, Johnson."

"Good-by, sir," said Johnson hoarsely.

"You are not to follow me," said Gordon. "Your promise."

Agony was etched on Johnson's face. At Gordon's firm look, he nodded slowly.

"I promise, sir," he said.

Gordon dropped his hand, turned and strode from the room. Johnson stood quite still for a moment, staring at the door which had closed behind him. His face went gray and old; he sank into a chair, buried his head in his shaking hands. Sobs shook his body.

"Judas!" he moaned. "Judas!"

Gordon descended his private stairs and let himself out. A man came forward inquiringly. With some surprise Gordon said that it was not Harrison. He spoke to the man in a low voice and then hurried across the lawn, toward the spot where the driveway swerved away from the house.

When he reached it he glanced back toward the house. A light burned in David's room. Doris would be there, dressing for dinner. Gordon put a hand to his lips, made a little gesture toward the light. Then he turned and strode down the driveway.

Cooke came out of the lodge at the gate.

"I'm going for a little stroll," Gordon said quietly. "I want to be alone, Cooke; do you understand?"

The man nodded.

"Yes, sir," he said.

He went back to the lodge, and the gate swung open. Gordon stepped through, began to walk, unhurriedly, toward the city.

Looking indescribably lovely, Doris, in a trailing pale yellow frock, her beauty enhanced by the pallor of her cheeks, walked down the stairs. She heard no sound, and paused, puzzled at the absence of voices. Then she hurried into the living-room. There was no one there. She looked about her, bewildered called: "Dad!" There was no answer.

Then she saw, through the French windows, Nelson crossing the lawn. She ran to the door, called to him. He stopped, turned and came toward her. She advanced to meet him, her thin slippers crunching the gravel of the driveway.

"Dad?" she said. "Where is he?"

"He just left, Miss Doris," said Nelson.

"Left?" she echoed, her hands going to her breast. "Where?"

Nelson shook his head.

"Don't know, miss," he said.

The girl gasped.

"Mr. Benson—Mr. Tyler—where are they?"

"Gone too, miss."

"With Dad?"

"No, miss. They left a few minutes earlier—alone."

She stared at him, the last vestige of color gone from her face.

"Where—where have they gone?" she breathed.

"Don't know, miss," said Nelson.

The girl caught her breath. Then she whirled about, stared at the cottage across the garden. The blind girl had begun to play her violin. The sound rose, clearer, hauntingly beautiful.

"That music!" Doris cried. "Always it's come—"

She gave a little moan, and then she was running toward the cottage. Nelson stared after her a moment; then he followed. He heard the music cease, increased his pace. He was just behind Doris when she burst through the door. Ruth, on the arm of her maid Olga, was descending the stairs. She stopped at the sound of Doris' entrance.

"Mr. Gordon!" she called.

"It's I—Doris," said Doris.

"Where is he—oh, where is he?" Ruth said. "Take me to him—quickly!"

Doris ran to her, took her other arm. Nelson stood watching, bewildered. Across the room Harrison stood, staring at the scene on the stairs.

"He's gone—he's gone!" Doris cried. "What is it, Ruth?"

"Oh, God—oh, God!" Ruth moaned. "It's a trap! They'll all be killed!"

Doris clutched at her arm, shook her head.

"Where have they gone?" she demanded.

"The Palm Gardens," Ruth said huskily.

Doris dropped her arm, turned, started running down the stairs. Nelson reached out for her, but she eluded his grasp, sprang through the door. Nelson caught up with her as she reached the garage, seized her arm.

"Let me go!" she cried passionately. "Let me go!"

Music Study Club Concludes Season; Plans Picnic In June

Salem Music Study club closed a most successful season yesterday with the meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite on the Depot rd. The group will not meet again until fall, but on June 8 members will have a picnic at the Chestnut Hill pavilion in Mill Creek park, Youngstown. They will meet at 10:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Frank Stoudt on North Lincoln ave.

Mrs. Satterthwaite's mother, Mrs. W. J. Smith of Richmond, Ind., was a guest of the club yesterday. Mrs. J. T. Burns, chairman of the program committee for the 1936-37 season, announced that the first meeting next year would be held at her home on North Ellsworth ave., Monday, Oct. 12.

The delightful program enjoyed by members opened with choral singing, conducted by Mrs. L. D. Cessna, with accompaniment by Mrs. E. E. Dwyall. Mrs. Esther Odoran sang the solo parts for the two choral selections, "To a Wild Rose" and "No Shadows Yonder". Mrs. Cessna, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dwyall, offered the solo, "O Dry Those Tears" (Teresa Del Reig). The story and music of clever and fantastic parodies on

"Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," were in charge of Mrs. Frederick Kirkbride. Mrs. Kirkbride also played several popular songs, "Lost," "Melody From the Skies" and "Twilight on the Trail". Mrs. Henry Sheen entertained with the vocal selection, "At Dawning" by Cadman. Mrs. Kirkbride accompanied her. The Satterthwaite home was beautiful with bouquets of garden flowers. A buffet lunch was enjoyed at a table attractively appointed, where Mrs. W. J. Smith and Mrs. L. B. Harris presided.

Expect Decision In Telephone Rate Refund Case July 1

COLUMBUS, May 26.—Thousands of subscribers of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., may know by July 1 whether they are entitled to rate refunds of approximately $12,000,000.

The state supreme court which has been considering since Jan. 29, 1935, the company-wide rate case involving an appeal from the state utilities commission, generally was expected today to give its decision before quitting work for the summer recess.

Hearing of cases will end June 19, and at least one decision day will follow, June 24. Another is likely July 1. Attaches of the court and the clerk's office pointed out that the custom of the court has been to decide all submitted cases before starting the summer recess. If this custom is followed, the Ohio Bell case should be disposed of by July 1.

Although the court has had the Ohio Bell case under consideration for almost 18 months, the necessity of keeping abreast of current work has resulted in the court studying the telephone case piecemeal. The voluminous record, covering more than 12 years of litigation before the utilities commission, must be reviewed.

The court is required, in reaching its decision, to study the testimony involving the fixing of the value of the company's property at $93,707,482 by the utilities commission, and also the scores of legal points that have been raised. It must consider questions of both fact and law to give a decision.

Theater Attractions

James Stewart, who is seen in the leading role in "Speed", second of the double bill films at the State tonight and tomorrow.

A double bill is shown tonight and Wednesday at the State theater. "Speed" is an exciting story of a chief tester for a great automobile firm (James Stewart), who played Jeanette McDonald's brother in "Rose Marie" here recently, and his sweetheart, niece of the president of the company (Wendy Barrie, who made her debut as Jane Seymour in "Henry VIII"). The other is the delightful "The Moon's Our Home" starring Henry Fonda and Margaret Sullivan. Fonda will be remembered for his fine portrayal of David in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Miss Sullivan was seen here sometime ago in "So Red the Rose" and will be remembered for her unforgettable Bunny in Hans Fallada's story, "Little Man What Now." With James Stewart and Wendy Barrie in "Speed" are Una Merkel, Ralph Morgan, Ted Healy, Patricia Wilder and Weldon Hayburn. The story deals with a young inventor's discovery of a supercharger that powers the world's fastest car. The production provides the biggest role to date for James Stewart. The picture goes behind the scenes of the automobile industry, taking the audience to the famed Indianapolis speedway with its crashes and thrills waged in the campaign to make automobiles safer. Ted Healy in the role of a comical mechanic has a feminine stooge in the person of Patricia Wilder of radio fame. "The Moon's Our Home" is the love story of two internationally famous persons, Cherry Chester, motion picture actress, and Anthony Amberton, explorer and writer, who learn to hate each other by reputation and then fall desperately in love when they meet under their real names, Sara Brown and John Smith. Both spoiled, temperamental and jealous of their own and each other's fame, the clash of temperaments results in a heated quarrel on their wedding night. The bride walks out on the groom and later, when they try to find each other, their names merely add to the confusion of their muddled affairs. Henrietta Crosman is seen in the role of the fiery, old-fashioned grandmother of Miss Sullivan. Charles Butterworth portrays the fiancée of Miss Sullivan, favored by the grandmother. With these four in the picture are Beulah Bondi, Lucien Littlefield, Walter Brennan and Doris Stickney.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, May 26—Jittery conditions prevailed in the wheat pit early today, with the price of May contracts swinging wildly over a range of 3 cents a bushel. Sharp opening advances were quickly followed by a break and by an equally swift rally, all due to uncertainties attending today's competition of May dealings except through the clearing house with actual deliveries of grain.

Opening ½ cent off to 1¼ cents up, May 96-96½, July 85-85½, wheat then declined moderately for new crop months and fluctuated convulsively for May. Corn started ¾ lower to ¼ higher, May 63¼-¾, and for the time being altered little.

"AMERICANS investing huge sums in the Bahamas, to escape income tax," says the New York Times, big type, front page.

Americans have been "investing huge sums" elsewhere, outside of the United States. Billions of American money have gone to Canada, England and other "foreign parts." More will go.

In all the Bahamas, 4,403 square miles of beautiful territory, THERE IS NO INCOME TAX. Think of that for a happy country.

NEEDLESS to say, if enough American money pours in to make it worth while, the intelligent British will find a way to tax it; meanwhile, for Americans that moved out their money early, the Bahamas are as "a hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest, as streams of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land."

Moving billions of capital out of this country to invest in job-creating enterprises abroad, will not help our depression problem. The Irish can tell you what happened to Ireland when British landlords spent in London all the rents they collected in Ireland.

THE "BLACK LEGION" of 100 per cent American patriots bent on establishing a better, brighter America by flogging and murdering, turns out to be an extensive organization. Ten thousand of them, with black and white robes, hoods, skull and cross-bone ornaments, organized in one county.

Police are working on some fifty murders committed by the Black Legion "in its efforts to purify America." It is found that murders were ingeniously arranged to look like suicides. Captain Marmon of the Michigan State Police calls the legion "the strongarm agency of the Ku Klux Klan."

THE LEGION'S idea of purifying America is shown in its preliminary oath. Before joining the legion, the candidate must declare himself "ready to take up arms against Jews, Negroes and Catholics."

A few executions in the regular way, with no help from the Black Legion, should convince that body that America prepares "purification" in the old-fashioned way.

HAILE SELASSIE is on his way to London and British statesmanship wonders what to do about that. Theoretically, he is still an emperor, the British not having recognized Mussolini's mopping up in Africa.

One thing is certain, the English king, who has a sense of humor, will not go to the railroad station to meet Selassie on a piece of new red carpet.

RETURNING to the plan to build up American prosperity by buying from foreigners, those foreigners seem not eager to adopt the plan for themselves.

England persists in her "buy British" campaign; and Japan's house of peers approves a bill "to restrict drastically the business of Ford and General Motors in Japan."

Japan wants an automobile industry, really Japanese, and you cannot convince the wise Japanese empire that the way to keep Japanese workers is to buy the products of American labor.

It takes an American professor to work out that theory.

vesting geniuses, Americans whose business is creating jobs for other Americans, cannot move everything to the Bahamas. Henry Ford or Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., cannot move their plants there; Myron C. Taylor cannot move his steel mills.

They must remain, to be taxed at the sweet will of professors, that never created a payroll or a job in their lives.

Whether or not that is a wise system, time will tell.

INTERESTING executions here and there; Lithuania, after secret courtmartial, executes four Lithuanian farmers, sends others to prison for life. All convicted of distributing "inflammatory pamphlets from Germany."

GERMANY cut off the head of a 65-year-old man convicted of killing 12 boys. Before death "examined" by Nazi officials who thought he might be a Communist, he admitted.

Mullins Foremen Win Fourth Straight Game In Class A Loop

Trades Class Is Dropped From Undeclared Rank by Salem Hardware Nine, 8-7

Foremen Keep Record Clean by Squeezing Out 15-14 Victory Over United Cigars; Presbyterians and Emmanuel Win Class B League Games

While one Class A league team tasted defeat for the first time of the season another continued to keep its record clean in softball games of the senior circuit at Centennial park last night.

The team to slip from the unbeaten ranks was the Trades Class, which suffered its first set-back in four games when it was nosed out by the Salem Hardware, 8-7, in the nightcap of the Class A league's first double bill of the year.

Mullins Foremen came through with their fourth straight win in the first game, squeezing out a 15-14 victory over the United Cigars in a tight contest.

Scoring two runs in the first inning and five in the second, the Hardware coasted to victory over the Trades Class on its early lead. The "Schooners" trailed 8-6 as they came to bat in the sixth inning but their attempt to pull out in front fell short when only one run crossed the plate. The game lasted but six innings because of darkness.

George "Sim" Early went five innings on the mound for the Hardware and allowed five hits. Commenting afterward about his first victory, Early said, "My arm'll probably be so stiff tomorrow that I won't be able to comb my hair." Heidrick and Bill Miller alternated in the box for the Trades Class. They granted eight hits.

Purn Sidinger of the Trades and Dick Konert of the Hardware both connected for full trips around the bases during the contest.

Free hitting marked the Foremen-Cigars game with the former club collecting 10 blows and the latter nine. Nine errors made by the Cigars aided the Foremen considerably in gaining their fourth consecutive victory.

The Foremen received a scare in the first two innings of the game, when the Cigars scored eight runs, but came to life after this threat to take the lead in the fifth frame and held it throughout the remainder of the contest. The Cigars knocked Jim Alaback from the mound in the first with a six run scoring spree. Alaback was relieved by Jim Fitzpatrick.

Ed Miller and Ralph Gregg combined to cover the pitching duties for the Cigars.

Fitzpatrick, Dermatta, Ed Kennedy and Jerome Kaiser led the Foremen in batting with two hits each. Earl May, last year's batting champion, paced the Cigars with three blows out of five jaunts to the plate.

Hit and Run Affairs

Both of the Class B games yesterday were hit and run affairs with the Presbyterians edging out the Columbians, 17-16, and the Emmanuel Lutherans blasting the Christians, 19-8.

McPherson, McQuilken and Haroff all wielded the bat hard to aid the Presbyterians in their victory. Haroff pitched for the Presbies, granting 15 hits. W. "Gaby" Guapone was in the box for the Columbians and allowed 20 hits.

The Emmanuel Lutherans gained a big edge in their contest with the Christians when they brought in 10 runs in the first inning. They added other scores in the second, fifth and sixth frames.

Falk, Walter Linder and M. Pauline were outstanding at bat for the Emmanuel Sebo. In the box for the Lutherans, allowed nine hits.

 vities at Columbiana
 Next Saturday

COLUMBIANA, May 26. — On Memorial day, the parade will begin at 10 a. m. Members of patriotic organizations will assemble at the Legion hall at 9:30, to participate in the parade headed by the Legion band. Transportation will be provided for members of Hattie Bishop circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. School children are asked to assemble in class rooms at 9:45. They will join the procession.

Rev. C. J. Sutorius will make a brief address at the cemetery and the usual program will be followed.
 C. W. Spratt is chairman of the committee in charge.

Legion Will Meet

The monthly social meeting of Benjamin Firestone post will be held Wednesday evening and the entertainment will be provided by H. C. Culp, C. H. Shontz and Stewart Orr. Refreshments will be in charge of L. E. Holloway, R. I. Mollunkopf, Ralph Reddington, Fred tin.

125 at Banquet
 The Methodist Home Missionary society sponsored a mother-daughter banquet in the church with 125 present. Mrs. Frank Simlik of Youngstown gave an interesting account of her recent European travels.

Mrs. John Strausbaugh welcomed the mothers and her mother, Mrs.
 J. A. Richardson made the response. Mrs. C. A. Richardson sang "Mother's Rocking Chair." The dinner was served by members of
 J. O. Hagedorn's Sunday school class.

One of Salem's Finest Suburban Homes

This home is known as the Schilling home, which they prize very dearly, but on account of the death of Mr. Schilling and the daughter's leaving they are compelled to sell. It is located about 2 1/2 miles out the Lisbon Road and we can sell from five to eight acres with the dwelling. Four rooms and service room downstairs and four rooms and recreation room upstairs. Large living room with open fireplace.
 House modern throughout. Also shop and two-car garage. Beautiful lawn and shrubbery, plenty of fruit. Would be an ideal tourist home or tea room and an exceptionally nice residence property. Price complete $8,500, or will reserve 3 acres and sell five acres at $7,500 with the buildings. For more particulars, see—
